GEORGE W. PATRICK

DEDICATION

For his cooperation in all school activities, especially those in the field of music;

For inspiring the ESPRIT DE CORPS so evident each year among the members of his band by his honesty, patience, sincerity and sense of humor;

For the sympathetic and understanding guidance given boys under his direction;

For the untiring interest and efforts in the yearly high school band contests in which his bands participated or which he judged;

For outstanding contributions in developing the standards of high school bands; for his leadership in the State, Regional and National School Band Association;

For the qualities of citizenship prompting membership in the Springfield Kiwanis Club, Ansar Band, and the American Legion;

This 1951 Capitoline is dedicated to George W. Patrick, Director of the Springfield High School Bands since 1923.

“OH! HOW I HATE

SENIORS

“Pomp and Circumstance” is being played. You’re marching across the stage; Mr. Wentz is giving you your diploma; the audience is clapping; you smile, not at them, but in reminiscence of your four years at SHS. Your thoughts occupy you so much that you forget to turn the tassel of your mortarboard to the other side.

Watching the others, you see some crying, others grinning. You’re not as glad to leave as you thought you would be.

You see Dick, Don, Bob, Jack, Charlie; they did a good job at basketball. They won the City Championship with Dick, Don, and Nelson.

Over a little farther, you notice Jack and Gary. A swell bunch of fellas; they did well in football.

The cheerleaders with the Pep Club had some new ideas.

You look at Eric, Jane, Mary, Gary, Ed, Preston, and a few others. “If only I’d tried harder, I might’ve made the Honor Society.”

There’s Hank, Carole Jean, John, Bob, Dick, Lynda, Kay, Barbara, Carol, and Dale; they certainly were hard workers! We’ve a swell yearbook this year. The May Festival was lots of fun.

Oh there’s Jo Ann; “I’ll never forget that heavenly prom!” Phyllis and Steve did good jobs in the “Perfect Idiot!”

You wish Zeke would pep up “Pomp and Circumstance.” “Johnson Rag” would be more appropriate. We could get off the hot stage faster.

You smile suddenly. Wasn’t it funny—“I’ll never forget Pledge Week when I proposed to Mr. Wentz.” Dave was a sight in the Capitoline Assembly.

Your ideas jump from one party or activity to another—when Steve helped win the State's Double Tennis Championship; the slumber parties, the Esquire, the Alamo, and the Sugar Bowl; dances, games, clubs, and sub deb meetings.

Lois and Grace wrote some good "Senator" staff articles. Grace, Margaret, and Dorothy did a good job in Singing Seven.

Steiny and Nancy—I could watch them play basketball all day.

Didn't Edith and Barbara do a swell job in Public Speaking? Sharon was a darling queen for the Wrangler Dance. The Delphic Orrin Tucker Dance in our junior year was something never to forget.

We've got some cute girls in our class—JoAnne, Jackie, Ann, Sistie, Mary Lynn, Beverly, Sharilyn.

Connie and James and Art were funny in the student participation assembly.

English 13 really helped me. I can't think of any subjects I disliked.

As one punches a button of a radio to another station, another line of thought; your mind returns to the man now speaking:

"In conclusion, boys and girls, think of graduation as a commencement, a beginning in which you will decide your vocation, meet new friends. Remember in following a new course, 'anything worth doing is worth doing well.'"

Benediction follows; then you march away to "Land of Hope and Glory." This idea gives occasion to some more thinking.

While you're doing such the Capitoline has a few words to say, a few congratulations to give.

We're as proud of your class as you. Best luck to a class that ranks high in leadership, citizenship, scholarship, and athletics!

"JUST ONE MORE CHANCE"

JUNIORS

While passing out programs for the graduation exercises, you smile absent mindedly to those entering.

You wonder what type of people come to a graduation-beaming fathers, crying mothers, boy friends, girl friends, close relatives or friends, high school faculty and, of course, the graduates.

You see a few right now, excited, worried, preparing to form a line for the processional. You begin to day dream. Next year I'll be walking up there—I can see my diploma now.

Before this escapist becomes too optimistic, we'd like to give you juniors a few things to think about.

As a senior what do you expect to do, to be? Among the things you might look forward to are graduation, prom court or committees, club and class officers and membership, class play and committees, teams, National Honor Society, student council, Capitoline, scholarships, jobs, English 13, chemistry, or possibly military service.

Some things sound pretty glum, others a lot of fun. Yes, you will be the leaders. Freshmen (at least for the first week) will look up to you, respect you, and follow your footsteps as you have your predecessors.

As you think of your final year at high school and your first three years can you truly say you deserve the respect and congratulations for fine citizenship, scholarship, leadership, athletics and various other abilities that are given you? Will you be the leader of all professions the Capitoline says you will be? It's doubtful. Let's hope not.

Strive to do your best in everything, but realize your limitations. You'll find yourselves making up one of the happiest and most successful classes.

Not infrequently has it been said the junior year is the best because you don't carry the responsibilities of the seniors; yet you have the respect of other classes for you are upper classmen. We admit it's a nice set-up. And as you look back upon the 1950-1951 school year, memories of many enjoyable times run across your mind.

Yet don't let anyone fool you; the senior year is the most fun. It should be, for you are a year older, a year wiser (we hope); consequently with a more widened scope of experience your sense of humor, your ability to laugh at yourself should be more developed. Responsibility, if carried out, should give you a feeling of success and happiness. Remember, it's your own fault if it isn't. So, best of luck to future seniors!

"HOMWORK"

SOPHOMORES

The prefix soph of the word sophomore with its Greek derivation means wise. This fits in well with the familiar proverb about second year students:

"He knows not and knows that he knows not."

Thus we may say, "sophisticated sophomores"; for they have completed the year often considered most difficult in secondary education.

Seriously, this class is well oriented into the academic and extra curricular pattern at SHS.

Numerous class members have evidenced leadership, scholarship, citizenship, social adaptability and athletic prowess.

Several pledged various high school clubs; class officers and student council representatives were elected—all revealing leadership.

"Once upon a midnight dreary While I pondered weak and weary" is on the tips of tongues of the sophomore students indicating a study of American literature. It's questionable that is the reason too many sophomores stay up until midnight; however, those that do deserve credit for their scholarship, interest, and abilities.

"Over many a volume of forgotten lore"

Clean lockers, courtesy, consideration of school regulations are proofs of a virtue, citizenship, often forgotten in our high school careers. Therefore, congratulations to the sophomores possessing this trait.

Therefore, best of luck to the class of '53, and may they be as successful in carrying out future high school responsibilities as they were this year.

"THE WEARIN' OF THE GREEN"

FRESHMEN

While walking through the halls of SHS, this past year, have you ever heard some upperclassman say, "There goes a cooty."

Upon entering school last fall, the first thought of the freshmen was "How will we ever find our way around?" But within a few weeks they had become a part of the whole student body and had begun to take an active part in all school activities.

Soon they made their appearance at football games, shouting at the top of their voices for dear old SHS. At assemblies they soon learned to be a part of the attentive audience. They could also be seen at many of the dances and other social activities.

As the year progressed the class of '55 showed promising signs of having future athletic stars as well as scholastic leaders, and a cappella, band, and orchestra were sure to gain new members. They soon learned that buying elevator tickets for 50c was only another one of the upperclassmens' jokes.

Considering the size of this huge freshmen class their record for good conduct has been exceptionally high. Although the freshmen have three more exciting years ahead of them we all hope that they will be as successful as the past year has been.

"Keep up the good work, Freshmen. 1955 isn't too far off."

“TEACH ME TO FORGET YOU”

“HAIL TO THE CHIEF”

MR. ROY WENTZ

Springfield High School will miss Daddy Wentz. He has left his mark on our school. Coming to SHS in 1913, he has served as mathematics teacher, as coach, as Dean of Boys, as assistant principal, and since 1948, as principal.

Whether teaching manipulations and logical systematic thinking, or coaching the State Champion Basketball of 1917, or holding a stern hand on discipline during his years as assistant principal, or guiding the faculty to adopt a sound philosophy of education for SHS, Mr. Wentz did a job that commanded respect for its intelligence, forcefulness, and courageous good will.

His interest in youth has not been confined wholly to the school. For many years he has contributed much in time and leadership to Boy Scout work in Springfield. His own two children attended SHS, and both Mr. and Mrs. Wentz have taken an active interest in the sports and social events, as part of the educational development of the students of SHS.

Mr. Wentz has made an important contribution to the school and community in the field of education. As Principal, his aim was to set up an educational program that would benefit every boy and girl in the school. He insisted on courses that would enable the students to adjust to everyday living so that when they matured into adults they would be worthy citizens, reflecting credit upon themselves, the home, the school, the city, and the nation.

“WHAT DID I DO”

MR. ROBERT PERZ

The name, Mr. Perz, has different significance to every individual at SHS.

Wranglers and student council members think of an adviser—seldom laying down restrictions, more often interested in student ideas.

“Discipline cases” are thankful for his fairness and understanding.

Faculty members picture a personable young assistant principal who gives time plus to the students.

Those who are better acquainted are reminded of a tall man with his hands (excepting his thumbs) in the pockets of his brown suit, an engaging grin, a friendly manner, but still alert and quickly becoming serious as the occasion demands.

No matter what Mr. Perz means to each one, all are indebted to SHS's “possession” in uncountable ways. The best of luck to him!

“You’re So Understanding”

COUNSELORS

The counselors, Miss Hager, Miss Johnson, Mr. Lederer, and Mr. Petefish, assist the students with the problems of good study habits, right selection of courses, choosing a vocation and a college, and understanding themselves in relation to others with whom they live. They help to establish good parent-teacher, parent-school, and student-teacher relationships through their visits with the parents and teachers and their interviews with the students. In understanding the problems of students' adjustments and in assisting them to solve those problems, the counselors render a valuable contribution.

"I'M FOREVER BLOWING BUBBLES"

FACULTY

As a result of the educational instruction on the part of the SHS faculty and administration SHS students attending the University of Illinois ranked high in their beginning semester last year. SHS, highly accredited through the North Central Association, with its increasing wide curriculum, academic and otherwise, enables its students to prepare for the present as well as the future.

FACULTY

The art department gives its pupils a means for creative expression, appreciation of the artistically beautiful, and preparation for vocations through its variety of courses.

Commercial subjects: typing, salesmanship, bookkeeping, junior business, shorthand, and office practice serve to personal advantage as well as occupational preparation. Clerical practice is a new semester course in this department.

"THE 'OBJECT' OF MY AFFECTION"

The English Department teaches literature, writing, acting, and speaking. Judgment and appreciation are gained through experience and observation in spelling, punctuation, principles determining usage, material organization, spelling, vocabulary, listening, and classification.

American literature for seniors is a new semester course in their curriculum.

Latin aids greatly in English vocabulary and grammar and serves as a background for other languages. Spanish and French train students in reading, writing, and speaking their respective languages. All three give an understanding of the civilizations which spoke (or speak) their particular languages.

FACULTY

In addition to serving as a basis for dietetics, interior decoration, fashion designing and other careers, home economics makes girls ready for marriage through clothing, family living, food, home management, and home nursing courses.

Industrial arts including shop, machine study, electricity, printing, woodwork, and mechanical drawing, enables students to work with both hands and brains preparing themselves for industries, trades, and professions. Mechanical drawing for girls is novel in SHS's history.

"WHY?"

"LADY OF SPAIN I ADORE YOU . . ."

Mathematics: algebra, elementary, advanced and college; geometry, plane and solid; and trigonometry is necessary for medicine, scientific work and other professions. It enables the students to interpret, select, and be exact.

Music serves as a means for enjoyable leisure time activity. It develops appreciation for the student through training to listen, play and know types of music and instruments. Other students enjoy the bands; chorus classes; choirs; and orchestra's programs.

FACULTY

Physical education allows for physical development, relaxation and proficiency in outside recreations. Team work is taught in soccer for girls, football for boys and baseball, basketball, relays, and volleyball for both. Individual sports for girls include, tap, square, and folk dancing; tennis; and badminton; First aid is a required course for Juniors.

Physical science courses in this atomic age are absolute musts. In addition to giving a general background and appreciation for this immense universe, it opens the mind to many fields in which workers are needed. General science, biology, botany, zoology, physics, chemistry, and physiology make up the offered courses.

Social science in this small world is equally important as physical science. U. S. and world history, the study of the past as well as the present, prepares individuals for the future. Economics, chiefly understanding of finances; civics, knowledge about the constitutional running of our government; world problems; geography, including resources, trade, commerce industry, and physical make-up of the world all is present day history. Concise, critical thinking and understanding in relationship to others should result.

“They always call him Mr. Touchdown

The Springfield High School football team came through with a very successful and impressive season. While winning eight and losing only one, the Solons not only captured the city title from Cathedral, but shared in the Big Twelve championship as well.

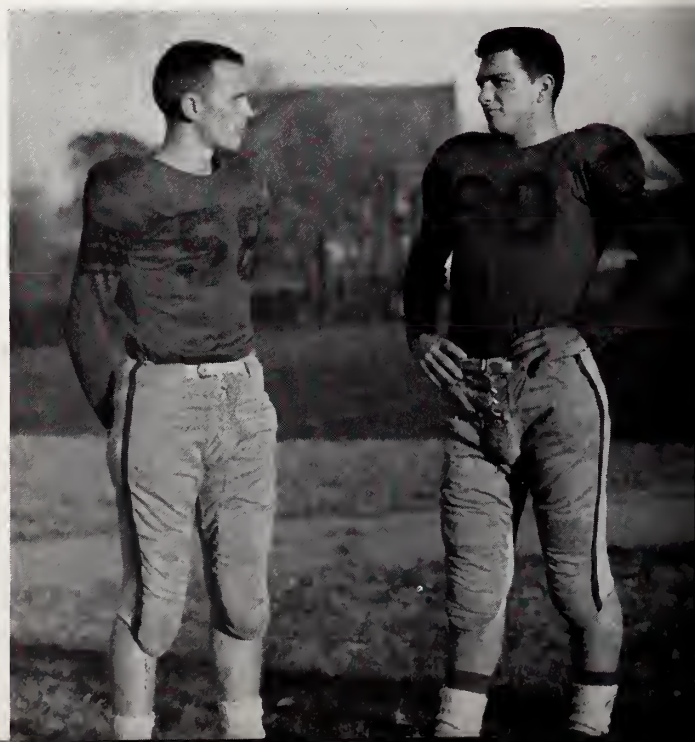

Coaches Bill Roellig and Jack Turner turned out a well-balanced eleven that featured a rugged, hard-charging line and a powerful, yet speedy backfield.

After getting off to a rocky start in East St. Louis, the Senators came fighting back and swept through the rest of their nine game schedule without a loss or tie to mar their record.

A brief resume of the 1950 football season follows:

The first game of the season found Springfield out-gaining their opponents, East St. Louis, on the ground, but not quite able to cope with the Flyers' last half attack. The Solons picked up their only loss of the season in their initial contest 21-6. Jack Stuckert became the first griddier to score when he scooped up a fumble and rambled for Springfield's only T. D.

Feitshans came next on our list and the educated toe of Ed Scoggins helped give Springfield a nip-and-21 to 20. Again a conversion provided the margin of victory over last year's city champs.

The first shut-out of our season was racked up against Lanphier as the Senators clinched the city title by running over the Lions 20 to 0.

After whipping everything in sight in the city, the Senators were ready to tackle their Big Twelve competition. Our arch rivals, Decatur, came first. Springfield put the clamps on the Big Red's offense and pulled out a 19 to 6 victory for their first conference win.

Peoria Central threw their usual jinx around the Senators in their next Big Twelve tilt, and Springfield had to go all out to salvage a 13 to 6 win in Peoria.

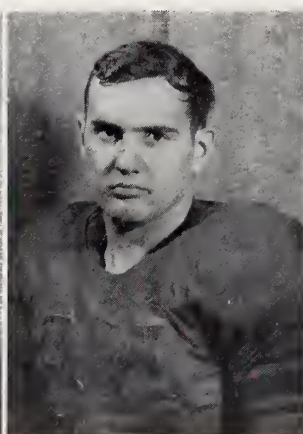

Bloomington didn't offer much opposition and the Solons pounded out a decisive 38 to 6 victory, making up for sluggish showing in Peoria.

Next Springfield traveled to Lincoln and the Rail-splitters were perfect hosts as they let the Solons clear the bench in posting a 21 to 0 victory and their seventh straight win.

Being well aware that a victory would assure them a share of the Big Twelve crown, the title hungry Senators edged out Danville in a bruising contest 13 to 12 for the season's finale.

The Solon scoring punch, led by Casper, Scoggins, Blakeman, Maisenbacher and Glisson, compiled 167 points during the season. Much of the credit, however, must go to the hard-hitting lineman, who opened up the holes and made it possible for the ball carriers to go all the way. On defense we allowed only 84 points, so more recognition must go to the linemen and linebackers. Jack Blakeman featured the Senator passing attack, hitting his backfield companions, as well as his ends, Honn and Upp, frequently with pin-point passes.

And so, with an offense featuring hard running and accurate passing, a stubborn defense and topnotch coaching, the Senators proved again to be one of the toughest teams in the state and the city champions of Springfield.

BASKETBALL

The Springfield High School cagers enjoyed one of their best seasons in several years in winning nineteen while losing only six. SHS featured a well-balanced offense with eight or nine boys figuring in the outcome of each game, and a defense that varied from an effective full-court press to a tight zone.

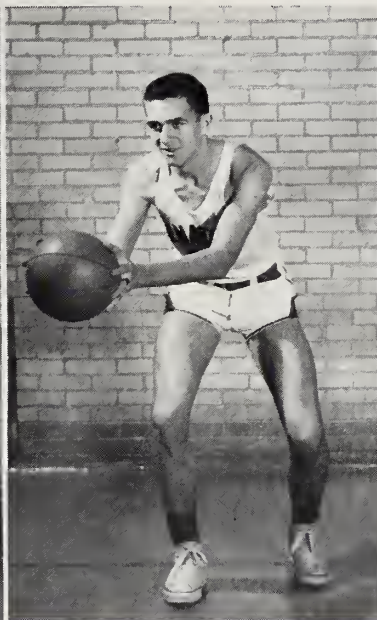

The Solons got off to a fast start by winning four straight before a powerful Lincoln quintet tumbled them from the unbeaten ranks. Springfield, however, coming back strong, defeated a good Athens club and swept through the City Tournament without a loss, returning the trophy to the halls of SHS.

After somewhat of a letdown following the city meet, the Senators dropped their next three out of four decisions. One to Decatur, Peoria Manual, and highly rated La Grange. At this point Springfield went on a rampage. Among those to fall before the Senator on-slaughter were Decatur and Lincoln, Springfield's arch rivals who had defeated the Solons earlier in the sea-

Our cheer leaders deserve a cheer. They've done a stupendous, as well as an acrobatic job this year. They inspired the student body with great enthusiasm at all the

“RACING WITH THE MOON”

Spring brings with her many things; two of which are track and rain. These two don't mix too well together, as Jack Turner's thinclads well know. Hampered by rain and snow, the track men were forced indoors and soon the steady pounding in the lower halls became well known.

The first meet, an inter-squad class meet, was postponed indefinitely because of lack of practice and rainy weather.

Helped by clearing weather, the Solons soon whipped themselves into top shape and rolled over Pana and Tri-City in a triangular meet at SHS. Clark Hiller, the star of the meet, carried off top honors by winning three firsts: broad jump, high jump, and the 100 yard dash. Springfield men took eight first places out of a possible twelve events.

The freshman-sophomore crew journeyed to Kincaid for the Annual Kincaid Opener and won second place, beaten by a tough Decatur team.

Next on the schedule was the long awaited Pana Open. Springfield, again, as last year, placed second. The Solon relay team made up of Hiller, Quisenberry, Hodde, and McFarland won Springfield's only first place.

The next day, amid rain and mud, the thinclads were entertained by Decatur at an open meet. While Springfield won only fourth in the meet, the SHS relay team dashed to first place, breaking by one second the previous record set by Decatur in 1948.

The freshman-sophomore team thoroughly routed Lincoln in a dual meet at Springfield April 24th. The meet, made up entirely of relays, was staged as practice for the forthcoming Normal and Lincoln Relays.

The next day the Springfield Varsity was forced to concede a dual meet to Decatur. Springfield scored five first places: Stuckert in the shot, Charlson in the discus, Maisenbacher in the pole vault, and Cox in both the mile run and the half mile run. However, the stronger Decatur team, managing to accumulate more second and third places, came out ahead.

The varsity won third place in the Annual Normal Relays on April 28th. Don Cox, the only individual to place in the specialty events, took fourth in the 880 yard run. Other places were second in the low hurdles shuttle, third in the 880 yard relay, and second in the sprint medley.

Springfield, with 84.5 points, defended her first place title in the City Meet with Don Cox taking first in the 880 yard run and a mile run. Clark Hiller topped the city high jump record by clearing the bar at six feet. He also led the 100 yard dash in 10.2 seconds and won the broad jump with 21 feet and 9¾ inches.

Up to the time of publication, the District Meet has not been run off. However, it seems to offer a chance of a trip to state, even though it is too early to form conclusions. The relay team hopes to make the trip at all costs.

SPRINGFIELD HIGH TENNIS TEAM — 1951

The SHS tennis team under the direction of Mr. Dewey has had a fairly successful season. Although bad weather hampered the team a great part of the time, the squad demonstrated fine play and sportsmanship.

Thus far, the Solons have competed in three meets. They finished second to Lincoln in a dual meet; took third in a quadrangular meet with Danville, Lincoln and Decatur; and in the district held at Decatur, the Solons failed to qualify anyone for the state meet. Members of the team who have done a commendable job are: Jerry Lahey, Steve Hill, Tom Reed, Donald Cooke, George Luthringer, and Bob Lenz.

NIGHT IS COMING''

SENIOR STAFF

The first time the students of SHS became aware of the future existence of a Capitoline was in October at the Capitoline sponsored assembly. But the staff had been aware of this publication for many months. The staff began its work by selecting a theme. Then the editors began to work in their respective fields. After the assembly, the business managers were kept busy counting money and writing receipts. Early this year, the staff, in a surge of ambition sold enough acknowledgments to pay for a padded cover. Gradually and surely our work was finished and you were presented with your 1951 Capitoline.

Once again the Les Bas Bleus Literary Society has contributed to Springfield High's many activities.

Under the direction of the adviser, Miss Wilson, an interesting and varied program was planned. Some of the high spots included the party for Jr. Les Bas and Philos, the spring picnic, movies, and guest speakers.

This year, as in the past, Les Bas Bleus gave generously to charitable organizations. They also donated a book to the library.

THE HOLE IN HER STOCKING''

The society joined the social whirl by giving two big dances. At Christmas Les Bas and Wranglers sponsored "The Reindeer Romp", one of the most successful dances of the holiday season. The annual Spring dance, with the crowning of a king, was also a long-to-be remembered event. The club took part in entertainment after basketball games, too.

The busy season ended with the election of officers and the Mothers' Tea, which drew a big crowd.

The Philos, with Miss Inez Giesecking as adviser, have upheld their well earned reputation by continued annual activities. Included among them was their cookie and candy sale.

This year they sponsored the second annual “Soc Hop” and the graduation dance which were two of the most successful school dances of the season.

Being community minded citizens, they contributed willingly to the Community Chest Drive and devoted their free time to making scrap books and stuffing animals for underprivileged children.

The 1950 football season was inaugurated by the annual Wrangler bonfire and Gridiron Hobble. At the dance, movies of dance orchestras were shown. The idea, however, was unsuccessful and all who attended were invited to a Wrangler Invitational dance in the future. Miss Sharon Schryver reigned as the ideal queen.

The concession stands at the home football games were operated by the Wranglers and contributed heavily to the treasury.

DELPHICS

This has been a prosperous year for the Delphics. They began by having a very sedate dance party for the Alumni. Near the end of the football season, they royally tromped the Wranglers at a rough game of football. The members cheerfully contributed for Christmas baskets.

January basketball season brought another duel between the Delphics and Wranglers. The outcome was determined only after the final gun, yielding a close victory to the Wranglers, 27 to 23.

This year marked the completion of ten successful annual dances entitled "The Delphic Shamrock Shuffle." Another hit with the student body is the annual Delphic Amateur Show. Talent in SHS is revealed in this carefully planned assembly, with awards for the winners.

With the close of a successful year, Delphic activities proved that the officers worked for a stricter following of the Delphic constitution than in previous semesters. Mr. Gene Lederer again was the well-liked Delphic adviser. The club closed the year's program with its annual spring banquet.

The members advance from dish scraper to checker. Qualifications for membership are a C average, and interest. In exchange for work, they are given their lunches.

In addition to their daily work, they hold bimonthly meetings. Officers are elected and new members are initiated each semester. Annual affairs include a Christmas breakfast, an Easter breakfast, meetings with cafeteria council members of FHS and LHS, a fall

This organization is unique in that it is the only SHS club which holds meetings during the summer months.

To become a member, a boy must enroll in vocational agriculture, keep and care for a project, attend meetings and pay his dues. The objectives of this organization are: to develop competent rural leadership; to strengthen the confidence of rural boys; to encourage the development of individual farm programs; to improve agriculture and scholarship; and to teach the boys to make good use of their leisure time.

Last summer the boys took exhibits to the fair for showing and judging. They received awards for their grain and poultry projects.

The social and athletic activities in which the members participated were parties and softball.

Springfield High's Typography Club, two years old this year, has received much attention as an organization interested in doing special kinds of jobs in printing. Any boy in Printing 1 who is taking a full semester of Printing may join the club.

At their meetings the members see movies, practice basketball for their games with other school clubs, or do jobs. Some of these jobs are binding books, printing Christmas cards, and, in co-operation with the Delphics, printing programs for the football and basketball games.

Mr. Redding, the printing teacher, is the able advisor of this organization. It is because of his help and encouragement that the club has been a success.

In September the council tackled its first job of the year in raising subscriptions for the Senator. The students responded poorly and the drive fell some hundred and fifty dollars short of the required total so the paper could not be published. The council welcomed the frosh to SHS at a party in September. Refreshments and dancing in the girls gym followed a quiz program by Shelby Harbison and Bill Nelms of WTAX.

Student Council representatives met with Miss Parker in October to select a varied assembly program for 1951-1952. Another highlight of this month was the council's smooth handling of the class officer elections. The SHS council also assisted with the All City Student Council's Turkey Trot in November. This dance was sponsored by the newly-formed group in an effort to bring students of the six city high schools together socially and thus better inter-school relationships. SHS was represented on the All City Council by Lynda Couch (who was secretary of the group), Nancy Bogardus, Kay Hattoon, and Robin Smith. Student Council representatives collected money for the Jr. Red Cross drive in November.

Carolyn Miller headed the council's December pencil sale to raise funds for other council projects. Beginning with the Pekin game of December 15, the council, with the aid of the school clubs, again backed sweater dances following the seven games.

Of course the crowning achievement of the Student Council this year was the May Festival. In lieu of a home-coming celebration, the council fostered the idea of having an all school festival complete with carnival, dance, queen, and court. Carole Jean Johnson was general chairman of the hard-working committee which began work in January. It was made up of clubs, class, and student council representatives. Another student council feature was the assembly to promote interest in student government.

The June presentation of the council's annual awards to the freshman girl and boy with the highest scholastic average completed the Student Council's busy year.

One of the newest organizations in Springfield High, this club has grown in popularity. It is open to anyone who wants to join, the only requirement being a willingness to “swing your partner,” and join in the fun.

The regular meetings were held every other Wednesday evening in the girls gym. Under the very able direction of Miss Farrar, who plans the programs, and Miss Schulze, who teaches the dances, the members have enjoyed every meeting of this recreation club. They have learned many of the basic steps which are practiced all over the country.

Plans for next year are already begun and the members look forward to more fun in the fall.

“HIGH ON THE LIST”

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Good school citizenship as well as scholarship was the basis of selection of the above group of January and June graduates. Sponsors of the National Honor Society, Misses Clapper, Woods, Mathews, Dean, and Mr. Wentz compile a list of those eligible scholastically and submit it to the rest of the faculty for final decision. Citizenship includes high type of character, leadership ability, and service to the school. Scholastically, the student must have a general average of “B” during his high school career and the equivalent of four “A’s” and two “B’s” in at least one major subject.

Although the students are elected at the end of the second term of their final semester and may receive their pins shortly after the members are announced, they do not receive their membership certificates until the recognition assembly held on graduation morning. Various types of scholastic achievement are rewarded. Both January and June graduates are equally eligible for all awards.

Practicing daily during the sixth period, Mr. Johns' orchestra is enjoyed by all fortunate enough to be within hearing range. A variety of music, semi-classical and classical, gives the orchestra members an understanding and an appreciation of music that few adults have. All this practice has, of course, enabled the orchestra to give two very fine concerts. They, as well as their ensemble, have done fine public relations work.

Democracy as well as music is practiced by the orchestra through the elected orchestra council which plans the social events for the organization and carries on student conducting.

In preparation for orchestra, there is a preparatory orchestra fifth period.

This year the orchestra also took part in the Big Twelve Music Festival.

“THERE IS SOMETHING ABOUT

Under the direction of Mr. Patrick, the SHS band has ended another eventful and successful school year.

This organization, made up only of boys, never ceases its practice. Their summer meetings prepare them to play stirring music at football games. When basketball season comes, they also prove to be an inspiration.

While they participate in local affairs such as Governor's parties, parades, and holiday events, the high point of the year is their annual concert. Variety numbers always attract a large audience, and especially was this true May 24th this year.

To maintain this fine record the boys in red and black practice sixth period daily. Attendance at all events is not an uncommon occurrence as evidenced at the Annual Awards assembly. Congratulations to this fine organization.

as host to the annual Big Twelve Music Festival in May. Mr. Stanford Hulshizer, director at Drake University in Iowa, led the 1000 voice choir.

The members of this 80 voice choir are chosen by recommendations of former instructors and from the preparatory Junior and Girls Choirs.

In the preparatory choirs, members learn to read parts and prepare as accompanists. They sing in the two a cappella choir concerts and assist by ushering at the festival.

THE SINGING SEVEN

SECOND ROW—Dorothy Englebreetsen, Marilyn Brondell, Miss Hausen, Grace Capie.

The Singing Seven, a girls' ensemble, is an important public relations group of the school. They frequently sing with the choir, but devote most of their time to their own programs at luncheons, teas, conventions, and parties. Many local civic groups request these programs.

“Angels We Have Heard on High”

Since they appear before these organizations year after year they must learn many new numbers of great variety, contemporary and classical, folk and foreign. Miss Hausen and her group earn much good will for the school by these appearances.

ENSEMBLE

The string ensemble, composed of five talented high school musicians, serves as a public relations group for Springfield High.

GARY TILLY, KEN CROWELL, MARY SPINDEL, PENNY LEKA (absent)
PIANO, DORIS LAPP

“Holiday For Strings”

In addition to being the center of attraction at SHS orchestra concerts under Mr. John's direction, they concentrate on chamber music and take part in the Spring concert. Give a holiday for strings to these deserving musicians!

CLASS PLAY

"The Perfect Idiot" under the direction of Jane Mullett was presented to two responsive audiences by a well chosen cast made up of January seniors November 17 and 18.

The plot of the play centered upon a super intellectual who, because of his perfect I.Q., was obnoxious to family, friends, and school. His conversion into a "human" seventeen-old, was ably handled by the friends of the genius' brother; however the unraveling of the situations had many surprises in store. Many entanglements resulted; A storming radio soap magnate threatened to sue the group for libel; the indifferent genius was nearly put in a mental institution; the mother almost had a nervous breakdown and the father's career was seriously endangered. Relax—the crisis nose-dived into a satisfying third act.

Because the graduating class was small, many students found themselves devoting their time and services to several committees. Many evenings the cast, between calls on stage, wielded paint brushes. The ticket committee helped distribute posters. The able heads of the committees were: Walt McCarty and Loren Dodd, ticket committee; Elmer Jorgensen, publicity committee; Dale Brady, prop. manager; and Richard Miller, stage manager.

Although the play itself didn't have too much meat, it was given with vim and vigor, getting the most from a very obvious plot. Altogether the cast and class considered their experiences a rousing success.

"You Can't Take It With You," a three act comedy by Moss Hart and George Kaufmann, was a highlight of the school year for June seniors, as well as the audience. The largest cast in several years presented their play April 19th and 20th in the school auditorium under the direction of Miss Jane Mullett.

In the living room of the home of Martin Vanderhof, his family, and his friends, hobbies of candy making, snake raising, toe dancing, printing, trombone playing, drawing, play writing, and experimenting with fire works are carried on. With such an eccentric family, unusual situations are bound to occur. In this case, it's the almost disastrous engagement of Martin Vanderhof's granddaughter to a wealthy young "Wall Streeter."

A variety of properties (from snakes and alligators to skull and ashtrays) and a variety of personalities (from a Russian countess to a big business socialite and his wife) were obviously necessary to produce such a play. It goes without saying, the grand performances were due to the cooperation of all the cast and all the committees.
